About William T. Holt

Passionate about making a difference, William "Thomas" Holt strives to inspire readers to be creative, enjoy life and learn new things...having fun along the way. Raised in a single parent home, the middle child of six siblings, his environment created a need for escape.

During his early years, his grandfather "Pa' Paw" came to the rescue through summer trips to the countryside where the Pa' Paw tales were born.

Although Pa' Paw has been gone over 20 years, the lessons he taught William have been instrumental to his success as a business man, and a family man.

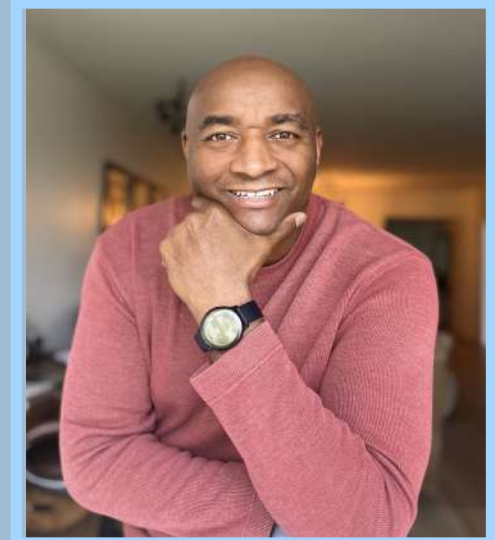

William's ability to relate to students make his events even more impactful.
